

The Computer Society of India(CSI) student chapter of Kongunadu College of Engineering and Technology in association with Fiabilite Network Solutions, Bengaluru had organized a one day workshop on “Emerging Technologies in Information and Communication Engineering” on 23.06.2017 at our institution. The students belonging to the department of CSE,ECE,EEE & IT are participated in this event. The programme was started with a welcome address delivered by Dean (R&D) Dr.J.Yogapriya. The chief guest Mr.Sudheendra, Co-Founder and Mr.Srikar, Director-operations of Fiabilite Network Solutions were acted as the resource persons for this programme.

This workshop is a unique program for Engineering students, focused on connecting engineering text books to industry .The Real life examples with hardware kits and software applications used in the industry are explained. Information on resources on applications, tools and technologies used in telecommunication and Real-time experiment and visualize results are shown to faculty members and students.

At the end of the programme, through campus interview two students of our college Mr.S.S.Arunprakash, III CSE, and Mr.M.Sudhagar,IV ECE are offered the appointment order from the Fiabilite Network Solutions. The programme ends with a vote of thanks from Dr. C. Saravanabhavan, Head of Computer Science and Engineering.

